

Statement on advocacy and public affairs

Corbion

At Corbion, we are committed to driving positive change and addressing the global challenges our world is currently facing. We firmly believe that biotechnology and sustainable innovations can play a crucial role in creating a more sustainable future. Our advocacy and public affairs activities are all in line with the Paris Agreement and our commitments to UN Global Compact, RE100, and the Science Based Target initiative.

As a purpose-driven organization, our public affairs efforts focus on engaging with regulators and policymakers to demonstrate the viability of sustainable business models. We actively collaborate with like-minded organizations to advocate for regulatory conditions that support sustainable frontrunners. Corbion pro-actively advocates for sustainable business practices aligned with its strategy in all the industry associations we are a member of. If there is significant misalignment between the industry associations position on a dossier that is relevant for Corbion, we will try to bring this position more in line with our objectives. If this turns out not to be feasible we either veto the position or make sure that its clear that the position is not supported by Corbion.

Our goal is to create an enabling environment that encourages businesses to adopt sustainable practices and contribute to a greener, more inclusive economy.

Through our engagement with policymakers and active participation in consultations, Corbion has demonstrated a dedicated effort to promote sustainable business practices that align with the European Union's values and objectives. We have provided valuable feedback and insights on these dossiers, which are publicly available on the European Commission's website. This transparency underscores our commitment to open dialogue and our desire to contribute to the development of effective and sustainable policies.

Corbion is dedicated to collaborating with stakeholders, policymakers, and industry leaders to drive sustainable change. Our aim is to create a future where businesses can thrive while safeguarding the environment and benefiting society. We are steadfast in our commitment to promoting sustainable business practices and actively contribute to the development of policies that support the transition to a greener and more resilient world. Together, we can make a positive impact on our environment and society, and Corbion is fully committed to being at the forefront of this transformative journey.