2. Annual Report 2024

Mr. Vrijzen says that as usual, the Chair of the Board of Management, Mr. Olivier Rigaud, will give a presentation on the developments at Corbion.
After this presentation, the Annual Report will be discussed.

Mr. Rigaud discusses the developments within Corbion. For an explanation, reference is made to the sheets attached to the minutes.

Mr. Vrijzen continues with the meeting.

He asks the shareholders to mention their name when asking questions, in connection with taking the minutes, and also to ask all questions at once. He further asks, in order to allow as many speakers as possible to speak, to limit speaking time to five minutes per item on the agenda, if possible.

Ms. Roeleveld representing the Dutch Association of Investors for Sustainable Development (VBDO), says that the VBDO's vision is to increase sustainability awareness among companies and investors and our questions and remarks will be about sustainability, in particular biodiversity, living wage in supply chain, and CSRD.

Biodiversity

VBDO commends Corbion for identifying biodiversity as a material topic (AR, p.80). Corbion has identified negative impact of agriculture on biodiversity and aims to address biodiversity for example by exploring sustainable agriculture and aims to achieve deforestation-free key agricultural raw materials (AR, p.34). Furthermore, Corbion demonstrates ambition as it is currently developing a biodiversity transition plan.

Could Corbion elaborate on the ambitions outlined in this plan and share what follow-up actions are being implemented in 2025?

Mr. Rigaud says that Corbion appreciates the dialogue with the VBDO. One of the main drivers of biodiversity loss is climate change and Corbion is committed to play our part by offering low-carbon solutions to our customers and by reducing our own GHG emissions and achieving net zero emissions by 2050. We have set emission reduction targets grounded in climate science through the Science Based Targets initiative (SBTi). We have been working on our climate action roadmap since 2019 and focus on energy efficiency measures, electrification, implementation of renewable electricity and renewable heat, process innovation and supplier engagement.

Through our participation in the Science Based Targets Network, we have learned that other relevant drivers of biodiversity loss relevant to our value chain are land use, land use change, and freshwater impacts. Water risk areas have been identified for both our own operations and the upstream value chain. In 2025 we will kick-off water reduction and awareness initiatives at Campos and continue with the implementation of improvement projects in Montmeló and Orindiúva.

For land, our priority areas are in the upstream value chain for our agriculture raw materials, confirming the approach we are already taking.

Finally, our biodiversity plan includes growing our fermentation-powered omega-3 business, where we offer an alternative to traditional fish oil, reducing negative impacts on marine biodiversity.

Living wage

Ms. Roeleveld states that the VBDO is pleased to read that Corbion ensures a living wage for all its employees (AR, p. 118). For workers in the supply chain, the topic of living wages is also addressed in the supplier code (Supplier Code, p. 3).

How does Corbion track and assess living wage paying practices of suppliers across the value chain?

Mr. Rigaud states that our Supplier Code defines Corbion's expectations for all suppliers and their contractors. Its objective is to ensure alignment between Corbion's actions and the actions of our suppliers on business ethics, human rights, labor conditions, and environmental practices and includes a recommendation to ensure that all workers are paid a "living wage". All our raw materials suppliers must sign this code to confirm their adherence or demonstrate commitment through their own company policies that embrace the code's standards. We are using various tools to monitor supplier performance on ESG topics, including RepRisk supplier monitoring, an annual supplier risk assessment, sugar audits and Bonsucro certification. We also review SMETA audits and Self Assessment Questionnaires from our higher risk suppliers.

Ms. Roeleveld asks whether VBDO can expect the outcomes of these assessments to be included in the next annual report?

Mr. Rigaud says we will continue to report the % of raw materials covered by our supplier code and the % of verified responsible sourced cane sugar.

CSRD

Ms. Roeleveld states that the VBDO commends Corbion for the transparency in the double materiality assessment (DMA), for example by sharing the criteria disclosed in appendix 3 of the annual report (p.134-135). 2024 marked the first year that companies, including Corbion, complied with the CSRD, in which double materiality plays a key role.

Could Corbion elaborate on the insights the CSRD implementation brought the company and how is the company planning to further refine the double materiality assessment (DMA) in the future?

Mr. Rigaud says that Corbion supports the CSRD's aim to enhance transparency and accountability in sustainability reporting. The CSRD's robust DMA approach is particularly beneficial as it ensures that companies focus their reporting on topics that are material from both an impact and financial perspective, promoting comparable reporting using standardized definitions. Corbion has been voluntarily implementing many of these practices, but making them mandatory helps level the playing field. Due to our long history of voluntary reporting, we were well prepared to successfully implement the CSRD requirements. The DMA guidance helped us further improve focus in our reporting. We will review our DMA in 2025 but we do not expect significant changes compared to 2024.

Mr. Korff de Gidts wants to ask a question. The plant in Thailand has been a large investment in the recent years. My question is whether the plant is now fully operational and what is the contribution of the plant to the turnover and the profitability in 2025 and 2026? This was not clear to me from the annual report.

Mr. Kazius says that the plant in Thailand is being ramped up and we are producing lactic acid out of that plant. In the Capital Markets Day early last year, we indicated that the benefit of this plant anticipated to be 10 million in 2025. The impact on 2024 was expected to be minimal. From a sales perspective, it's part of our lactic acid network. The sales are reflected in our Functional Ingredients and Solutions and Health and Nutrition part of the business.

With no more questions being asked, Mr. Vrijzen gives the floor to Mr. Noppers.

Mr. Noppers says that according to the attendance list, there are present or represented at the meeting 43,511,765 shares, representing 74.83% of the subscribed and voting capital. Each share entitles the holder to cast one vote.

Mr. Vrijzen concludes this agenda item.

3. Adoption of the Financial Statements 2024

Mr. Vrijzen remarks that the Board of Management - with the approval of the Supervisory Board - proposes to the General Meeting of Shareholders to adopt Corbion's 2024 Financial Statements. An explanation of the activities of the Audit Committee and the cooperation with the external auditor can be found on pages 59 and 60 of the Annual Report.

He gives the floor to Mr. Johan Schrumpf of KPMG, Corbion's external auditor, who gives a further explanation of the audit activities of KPMG.

Mr. Schrumpf says good afternoon to the Corbion shareholders and other stakeholders. My name is Johan Schrumpf, and the year 2024 was my second year as overall responsible and signing audit partner with respect to the financial statements audit for Corbion. It was the ninth year of KPMG as external auditor of Corbion.

I will take a couple of minutes to elaborate further on our audit approach and main findings. On the screen you can see a visualization of our audit process, and the different stages thereof. Certain elements of our audit approach and findings have not changed significantly compared to the prior year. Therefore I will not go into further detail on our group audit approach, and our communication with the Board of Management and the Supervisory Board. These are the sections 2 and 5 on this slide. More details on these topics you can find in our auditor's report. Instead, I will focus on the main changes compared to last year, in the areas of our reports, materiality and key audit matter.

Our reports

In respect of the financial statements, we issued an unqualified opinion. This means that the financial statements give a true and fair view of the financial position at 31 December 2024 and of the results and cash flows for the year 2024.

What was new in 2024 compared to previous years, is that we issued a limited assurance report with respect to the sustainability statements that were prepared in accordance with the European Sustainability Reporting Standards (ESRS). This assurance engagement is mandated by the Corporate Sustainability Reporting Directive, also known as CSRD. It is good to note that this engagement was not mandatory for 2024 because the CSRD has not yet been transposed into Dutch law. Nevertheless, the Company decided to pursue with this engagement in anticipation of such transposition, which is expected to occur later this year. We issued an unqualified opinion based on limited assurance.

The remainder of my presentation will focus on the audit of the financial statements.

Materiality

The materiality applied to the audit is both relevant in planning our audit and in evaluating the effect of identified misstatements. Based on our professional judgment, we have set materiality for the financial statements as a whole at EUR 5 million (2023: EUR 5.5 million). Similar to last year we determined materiality with reference to EBITDA. As EBITDA was expected to decrease compared to the prior year due to the divestment of Emulsifiers, we adjusted our materiality levels in line with that, meaning that the number was somewhat lower than last year.

Specific audit response

In our auditor's report we also provide insights into our specific audit response in respect of a number of topics, such as the risks of fraud, non-compliance with laws and regulation, going concern, climate and our key audit matter.

Compared to last year the key audit matter with respect to the valuation of the algae ingredients business and the related contingent consideration is not included. This is due to the outlook and the improved performance of the business. Furthermore, compared to last year the key audit matter with respect to the divestment of the emulsifier business has been added. This event was significant to our audit given the impact of the transaction and the non-routine nature.

The procedures that we performed with respect to the divestment are described in detail in our auditor's report. Based on these procedures, we concluded that the net book result, as well as the presentation as discontinuing operations, were adequately reflected and disclosed in the consolidated financial statements.

Next year's audit

For next year's audit of the financial statements, we expect to apply a largely consistent audit approach to 2024. The year 2025 will be the last year of KPMG as auditors of Corbion, because independence rules in the Netherlands for listed companies require auditors to rotate off after a period of 10 years.

Closing

This concludes my short overview of the highlights of our audit. I would like to thank you for your attention, and for your trust in our work. I would be happy to answer any of your questions you may have and for that I hand it back to you, Mr. Chairman.

5. Reservation and dividend policy

The current dividend policy is the ambition to pay out annually a stable to gradually increasing absolute cash dividend amount per share (progressive regular dividend policy).

He asks who he can give the floor in connection with this agenda item.

Mr. Velzeboer wants to ask a question regarding the payout date. The payout date is 14th May and in fourteen days the dividend will be paid out to us. Is it possible for the payout to be earlier? Because you have to drag all that money for weeks and you will distribute it among us, but you can do it much sooner.

Mr. Vrijzen says this is a difficult question to answer and thanks Mr. Velzeboer for the question. Corbion will ensure we have a proper payout

Mr. Kazius thanks Mr. Velzeboer for the question and says Corbion has set everything into motion to the communicated dates to pay out in a couple of weeks' time. This year, it will be done according to this plan.

With no further questions asked Mr. Vrijzen concludes this agenda item.

Announcements

Mr. Vrijzen say that if shareholders would like to receive the minutes of this meeting, they are asked to leave their name in the lounge when they leave.

Follow-up questions

Mr. Vrijzen asks who he can give the floor.

Mr. Velzeboer wants to direct his questions to the Chief Financial Officer. He mentions the hard work that has been done by Corbion but he is not happy with the share price development and shareholder trading. Nowadays, the share price can be monitored by many interns and reviews can be provided each day. My question is, what is Corbion's performance? I will be present at Euronext tomorrow and I will complain because there is no threshold and anything can be done. On behalf of the VEUE there should be a possibility of making a complaint because it is discrimination against the ordinary shareholder. How do you make the shareholder trading fair? They do not have any influence on that 30 second gap, but there should be plenty of possibilities. Companies like Corbion can ensure fair trade and make it fair for everyone regarding the share price and trading.

Mr. Kazius says that Corbion is proud of their performance as per last time. We are on a nice journey in terms of outlook, which was presented in the opening speech. From that perspective, we are on the right trajectory to delivering the results and we have also overdelivered on our results. With respect to shareholder trading, a number of years ago, Corbion looked into this subject. We did not discover any irregularities at the time and see no reason to reopen that investigation. In the Netherlands, the supervisory authority AFM is responsible for investigations into possible irregularities in the trading of shares in listed companies, so Mr. Velzeboer could contact the AFM.

Mr. Vrijzen adds he understands the frustration of Mr. Velzeboer and ensures that Corbion follows the stock exchange price in detail on a daily basis.

With no further questions, Mr. Vrijzen concludes this agenda item.

21. Close

Mr. Vrijzen thanks all for participating and closes the meeting at 15.53 hours.
